

Hilary Waterfall

- Pianist

Natalie Lauren Photography

I am a classically trained pianist. I studied at The Royal Northern College of Music and at Lancaster University. Since then I have spent many years teaching music which has meant that I have played all kinds of music including Jazz, Pop and Folk.

I now focus on performing, giving concerts locally and accompanying various groups and artists. I enjoy playing in different styles and learning new music.

If you chose me to play for your wedding I could help you select the music for your ceremony from a list of music that I know works well, or you could have musical items of your own choice that are personal to you. I am happy to play whatever you want.

If your wedding is in the Long Gallery I would expect to play the Steinway Grand piano but I also have an electric piano that I could play in the Coach House for your ceremony or during your drinks reception or wedding breakfast as background piano music.

I also play the piano accordion in one of Lincolnshire's top Ceilidh bands called 'The Riverhead Ranters'. We are available for weddings and other events.
